

Leading education
and social research
Institute of Education
University of London

SENJIT/CRAE (Centre for Research in Autism in Education) Conference

Autism and Education: new developments in research, practice and policy

15th July 2010 • Institute of Education, Main Building, 20 Bedford Way, London WC1 HOAL • 10.00am-4.30pm

Relevant to: professionals, parents and others interested in autism.

Cost: £125 to SENJIT subscribing Local Authorities, £150 non-SENJIT members (3 units).

Lunch provided.

In the past few years the pace of change in our understanding of autism spectrum conditions has been rapid.

New findings from research on how common autism is, and how children and young people with autism process the world around them, have led to a re-think of our approaches to early intervention and education. Alongside this, there have been major autism policy initiatives in the education and health sectors.

This one-day conference will bring together a panel of experts drawn from the research, practice and policy fields to update the audience on these new findings and developments.

Contributors include: Professor Tony Charman, IOE; Dr Glenys Jones, University of Birmingham, author of the National Strategies IDP materials on autism; Annie Etherington, LB Barnet; Dr Liz Pellicano, IOE; the National Autistic Society on their recent development work; Mariana Ware, TreeHouse, on their work with parents and carers; Dr Nicola Grove, speech and language therapist and storyteller of OpenStorytellers Ltd with young adults from Friends Meetup.

For further information contact Tina Catchpole t.catchpole@ioe.ac.uk 020 7612 6305

Booking & Cancellations

Please fill out the booking form for each person and click the submit button to make a booking via PDF. Alternatively, print and fax to Tina Catchpole on 020 7612 6994.

Course bookings are always confirmed 2 weeks prior to the course.

If you have not received confirmation by 2nd July 2010, please call the office on 020 7612 6305.

Please reserve one place for the SENJIT/CRAE autism conference on 15th July 2010 for:

Title:

Name:

School/Service (if appropriate):

Post held (if appropriate):

Local authority:

Member of National Autistic Society?

Yes

No

NAS members can book at the £125 per day rate

Email address:

Address:

Post code:

Do you have any access requirements?

SUBMIT