

olfactory

also known as 'smell'

hyposensitive

decreased arousal, undersensitivity

hypersensitive

increased arousal, oversensitivity

e.g.
Smells objects

May have no sense of smell and fail to notice
extreme odours

May lick objects

e.g.

Aversion to particular smells

Smells can be intensified and overpowering

Toileting problems

Dislike of individuals with distinctive perfumes or shampoos

This #GoodAutismPractice bite-sized learning resource is an extract of Tool 40 of the AET Tools for Teachers, a comprehensive collection of practical strategies and tools designed to support classroom success. You can access the original resource by clicking here.